

Lord, to thee I make my moan

Thomas Weelkes
(d. 1623)

S. Lord, to thee I make my moan,

A. Lord, to thee I make my moan, I

A. Lord, to thee I make my moan, I

T. Lord, to thee I make my moan, I make my

B. Lord, to thee I

I make my moan make my moan when make my moan, I make my moan moan, I make my moan when dan - gers make my moan, my moan when dan - gers when dan - gers me op-press; I call, I sigh, 'plain and groan, dan - gers me op - press; I call, I sigh, 'plain and when dan-gers me op - press; I call, I sigh, 'plain and me op-press, me op-press; I call, I sigh, 'plain and

me op - press, me op - press; I call, I sigh, 'plain and trust - ting to find re - lease, to find groan, trust - ing to find re groan, 'plain and groan, trust - ing to find, groan, 'plain and groan, trust - ing to find re - groan, 'plain and groan trust - ing re - lease, trust - ing to find re - - lease, trust - ing to find re - trust - ing to find re - lease, trust - ing to find re - to find re - lease, to find re - lease. Hear now, O Lord, O Lord, my lease. Hear now, O Lord, O Lord, my re - lease. Hear now, O Lord, O Lord, my re

 lease. Hear now, O Lord, O Lord, my re
 lease. Hear now, O Lord, O Lord, my re

re - quest, for it is full due quest, my re - quest, for it is due

- quest, for it is full

- quest, for it is full due

- quest, for it is full due time, due time, and let thine ears aye be time, and let thine ears aye be due time, and let thine ears aye be prest, aye be time, and let thine ears aye be prest, and let thine ears aye be

time, and let thine ears aye be prest, and let thine ears aye be prest, aye be prest un - to this pray - er prest un - to this pray - er mine, un - to this pray - er mine, un - prest un - to this pray - er mine, un - to this prest un - to this pray - er mine, un - to this pray - prest un - to this pray - er mine, un - to this pray - er

