

Sleepers, wake!

Slee-pers, wake! the watch-cry peal - eth, while slum-ber deep each eye - lid seal - Zi - on hears the voice that sing - eth, with sud-den joy her glad heart spring-eth: a - wake, Je - ru - sa - lem, a-wake! Mid-night's so - lemn hour is toll - ing, eth, at once she wakes, she stands ar-rayed. See her Light, her Star a-s-cend - ing, and se-raph notes are on-ward roll - ing; they call on us our part to take.

lo, girt with truth, with mer - cy blend -ing, her Bride-groom there, so long delayed.

Come forth, ye vir-gins wise: the Bride -groom comes, a - rise. Al-le-lu - ia!
All hail, God's glo-rious Son, all hail, our joy and crown, Al-le-lu - ia!

Each lamp be bright with rea - dy light to grace the mar-riage feast to-night.
The joy - ful call we an - swer all, and fol - low to the bri - dal hall.
