

Light's abode, celestial Salem

Hymnal 1982 no. 622, Melody: Urbs beata Jerusalem

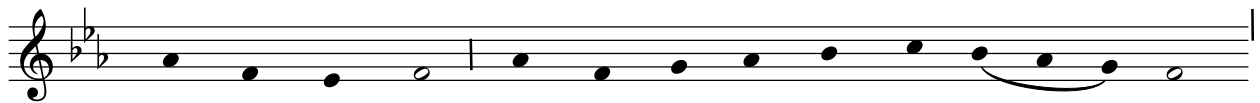

15th-century Latin,
tr. J. M. Neale (1818-1866)

Equalist rhythm

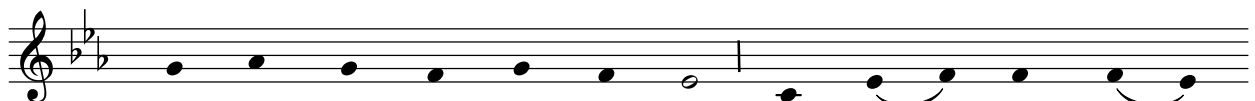

Mode ii,
13th century

1. Light's a - bode, ce - les - tial Sa - lem, vi - sion whence
2. There for ev - er and for ev - er al - le - lu -
3. There no cloud nor pass - ing va - por dims the bright -
4. O how glo - rious and re - splen - dent, fra - gile bo -
5. Now with glad - ness, now with cour - age, bear the bur - true peace doth spring, bright - er than the heart can fan - cy, ia is out - poured; for un - end - ing, for un - bro - ken ness of the air; end - less noon - day, glo - rious noon - day, dy, shalt thou be, when en - dued with heav'n - ly beau - ty, den on thee laid, that here - af - ter these thy la - bors man - sion of the high - est King; O how glo - rious is the feast - day of the Lord; all is pure and from the Sun of suns is there; there no night brings full of health, and strong, and free, full of vig - or, may with end - less gifts be paid, and in ev - er - are the prais - es which of thee the pro - phets sing! all is ho - ly that with - in thy walls is stored.

rest from la - bor, for un - known are toil and care.
full of plea - sure that shall last e - ter - nal - ly!
last - ing glo - ry thou with bright - ness be ar - rayed.